Artificial Human Eyes,
Adjusted without pain, by Dr. Spencer, Dentist, 254 Penn street.

To Those Afflicted with Rupture.
If this should meet the eye of any one who, either by accident or otherwise, is placed in the list of those above named, we would say to him respectfully, that Dr. Keyser, 140 Wood street, and 139 Penn street, constructs every kind of appliance for physical deformity of every conceivable nature.

The Doctor proposes to adapt trusses to persons of every age, no matter of how long duration, and would admonish those who have deemed themselves incurable to give him a call, as he has been enabled to relieve a vast number of persons whose relief was considered hopeless. To those who hitherto have been ill fitted with uncomfortable trusses, he would respectfully ask an examination of his model new Truss, which is so constructed as to meet every indication in most kinds of hernia.

There are thousands of persons who have greatly injured themselves by badly fitting trusses, who for very little additional expense, could have had the most perfect and comfortable appliances that are made.

There are many diseases now that simulate hernia so nearly, as to readily mislead the inexperienced and impractical, that it would be well for all those afflicted to cut this out for future reference.

The Doctor also has apparatus fo varicocele, hydrocela, piles, prolapsus of the uterus, prolapsus of the bowels, broken or varicose veins, and every kind of device for the relief and cure of physical ailments and deformities.

NEW YORK CITY MATTERS.

Book Trade Sale—Trade Strikes—Revolting Cruelty to a Child—The Miscreans Saved From Being Lynched by a Catholic Priest.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The book trade sale to-day passed off at remunerative rates.

The strike among the laborers and journeymen has not become general. The masons have, however, decided to demand $4.50 from Monday next, and threaten to cease work if their demands are not acceded to.

A man named Vanderbilt, residing near Hackinsack, New Jersey, was arrested for treating a girl thirteen years of age with revolting cruelty. The child was taken from the Asylum of Orphan and Destitute Children in New York to do general house work, and it is alleged that the child was tied up by the wrists and whipped until her flesh was badly mangled. The child succeeded in escaping, and made the facts known to the neighbors, who threatened to lynch Vanderbilt, but were deterred by a Catholic priest.

FROM MEXICO.

Maximilian Completely Surrounded

HIS CAPTURE CONFIDENTLY EXPECTED.

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Official news from San Luis Potosi to the 11th ult. has been received.

The expected battle near Queretaro has not yet taken place.

Escobedo is appointed to the command of the concentrated armies in the northwest, and Trevino has succeeded Escobedo as commander of the army of the north.

Maximilian and troops were at Queretaro fortifying the city.

The Liberals occupied Lacstancia De Las Vacas, nine miles west of Queretaro, on the Cedeya road—Santa Rosa, ten miles north, on the San Luis road; Jacral de Carbon, eight miles East, on the road to the city of Mexico, and Agueto, close to the south. The city is therefore surrounded on all sides and communication entirely cut off. Maximilian attempted to send reconnoitering parties out, but they immediately went over to the Liberals, stating the troops inside were much demoralized, and that the natives would join the Liberals as soon as they would have an opportunity.

The Imperialists had about 3,500 men in the city of Mexico. Of them however, 1,500 have been forcibly taken into the service and cannot be relied on.

Generals Diego, Alvarez, Riva, Palacio, Martinez, Lazo, Carbajal and others, West closely the city of Mexico, and had already isolated it from the interior.

Puebla was defended by 4,000 men under Noreigo, and General Diaz, with 8,000 men, had begun his operations to take it.

Should Maximilian be captured at Queretaro, as is confidentially expected he will, Mexico and Vera Cruz will be surrendered without firing a single shot more.

THE PARIS EXPOSITION.

Formal Opening—Immense Throng—The American Department—Inefficiency of Commissioner Beckwith—Reception of Emperor and Empress.

NEW YORK, April 2.—The Herald has the following special:

Paris, April 1.—The great Paris Universal Exposition was formerly opened this morning. The day was observed as a holiday by the entire population. At eleven o'clock the doors were opened, and by the time the Emperor arrived there were five thousand persons on the inside. Outside at least one hundred thousand people had assembled. There were eight thousand police on duty, and the order was excellent. The marriage in Paris seems to have been employed.

The grounds of and around the Exposition are in a lamentable state of confusion. Not one-tenth of the goods are opened and arranged. The French department is in the best condition, that for Italy is second, and third the English. All the other departments are not ready.

The American Department is one of the most incomplete, and the Commissioners, Exhibitors, and Americans generally in the city, are very much dissatisfied with Commissioner Beckwith, who is said to be totally inefficient. The only department in operation is the restaurants, but even here Americans are behind hand. The only goods which have been damaged on the voyage are American.

At one o'clock the invited guests assembled in the art gallery, where America made a fine show, many fine pictures being exhibited and well hung, but the English display was much greater. When the guests gathered, however, the superiority of American ladies was conceded. They were the belles of the day.

A brilliant company, blazing with diamonds and orders, filled the Central Hall to welcome the Emperor and Empress, who came precisely at two o'clock. They drove up a long avenue covered with a velvet canopy of green and gold, decorated with flags and lined with soldiers. They visited a very splendid pavilion especially built for the Emperor. The Emperor immediately reappeared and gave his arm to the Empress, and proceeded on foot to the main door. Preceded by the chamberlains, the party passed round the entire gallery, nearly a mile long. The Emperor spoke a few words to each Commissioner, but at the American department he stopped with the Empress and bowed to the crowd, who were cheering heartily.

The Exposition will not be ready until May. One-half of the space is allotted to France, and that is not complete.

The English are very strong in machinery, beating the Americans in that department.

There is nothing like so many strangers here as were expected.

The number of Americans is not much greater than usual every season. Prices have been up fearfully. The hotels raise their charges fifty per cent. after this week. It is useless to come to see the exposition before May.

STATE ELECTIONS.

The Connecticut Election.

HARTFORD, CONN., April 2.—The returns of the election in this State are nearly in. The following is the result within a fraction: The Democratic State ticket is elected by 700 majority. Democratic majority on Congressmen, 1,800. Average Democratic majority on whole ticket, 1,200.

Hotchkiss (Dem.) is elected to Congress in the Second District by 2,900. Hubbard (Dem.) is elected in the First District by 300. Wm. L. Barnum (Dem.) is elected in the Fourth District by 500. The Republicans elect Starkweather, in the Third District, by 1,700.

Wisconsin Election.

MADISON, April 2.—At the charter election the Democratic ticket was elected by 250 majority. Hon. A. S. Sanborn was elected Mayor.

MILWAUKEE, April 2.—The municipal election to-day resulted in the election of the Democratic ticket by 500 majority. Hon. E. O'Neil was elected Mayor.

KENOSHA, Wisconsin, April 2.—At the election to-day, M. H. Pittit, Republican, was elected Mayor.

FROM THE PLAINS.

Hancock's Indian Expedition—Severe Weather in Utah and Colorado.

ST. LOUIS, April 2.—The Democrat's Junction City correspondent says that Gen. Hancock's Indian expedition, 15,000 strong, was at Salina on Saturday. Gen. Hancock proposes to go to Fort Garred, on the Santa Fee road, where he will invite the Chiefs of the hostile tribes to hold a council to dictate terms of peace. If they fail to agree he will immediately enter upon a vigorous war against them.

Advices from Utah and Colorado say the weather was intensely cold in March, in some localities the mercury falling forty degrees below zero. The snow was very deep, and disastrous floods are looked for in the mountain districts. A large number of horses and cattle have frozen to death.

Gen. Augur and staff and fifty passengers are snow bound at Love Station, on the Northern Pacific Railroad.

FINANCIAL AND MINT MATTERS.

WASHINGTON, April 2, 1867.

BUSINESS OF THE SENATE.

The President to-day communicated to the Senate a large number of nominations. All the business concluded in the executive session was the rejection of Joseph C. G. Kennedy, as Commissioner of Agriculture, and of Henry J. Commager, as Postmaster at Toledo, Ohio.

THE RUSSIAN TREATY.

The Committee on Foreign Relations have not yet come to a conclusion on the Russian treaty.

MECHANICS BANK OF BALTIMORE RESTORED.

The National Mechanics Bank of Baltimore has, by the prompt and judicious action of its directors, under the guidance of the Comptroller of Currency, been enabled to report to its stockholders an unimpaired capital of $400,000, and is thus saved from the necessity of liquidation at the hands of a receiver. Its capital has, by a vote of the board of directors, been increased to the original amount, $500,000.

PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT.

The public debt statement will be forthcoming on Thursday. The coin balance in the Treasury is $135,000,000, including $15,000,000 of gold certificates. The receipts from customs during March were unusually large, $16,000,000. The internal revenue receipts appear comparatively small.

THE MINT LAWS.

The Secretary of the Treasury, in reply to a resolution, has sent to the Senate a letter to the effect that the suggestion of a revision of the mint laws is a subject well worthy of consideration, being in many particulars unadapted to the requirements of commerce and the greatly increased production of bullion. Many amendments have recently been proposed, among which are propositions for the mint to relinquish the refining of gold and silver and leave that business wholly to private enterprise, and the repeal of the coinage charge. Without expressing an opinion upon these subjects at the present time, he transmits a communication from Louis A. Garrett, of San Francisco, formerly an officer of the branch mint, and now connected with an extensive silver refinery. He says a complete abrogation of all taxes and restrictions upon mining enterprises, and the repeal of all charges at the mint, would tend to develop the country and enhance its products.

PORT OF ENTRY.

The Secretary of the Treasury has designated Helena, Montana, as the port of entry for the Collection District of Montana and Idaho.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The receipts of internal revenue to-day were $1,621,000.

CONGRESS.

The Senate in Extra Session.

WASHINGTON, April 2, 1867.

SENATE.

CASE OF THE MARYLAND SENATOR.

MR. JOHNSON rose to a privileged question, and defended Philip Frank Thomas, Senator elect from Maryland, against the charge contained in the report of the Bank of Commerce in 1862, that he, while Secretary of the Treasury, failed to provide for the payment of six per cent. gold debt, falling due January, 1861. Mr. Johnson caused to be read a long letter from Mr. Thomas in defence of his financial and official conduct, showing that he successfully made such provision.

MR. HOWARD said he had brought this matter up at a former day before the Senate for the benefit of the Judiciary Committee. He was no accuser or prosecutor, but it did seem strange that, although the report had been made some five years ago, Mr. Thomas had not until recently heard of it, notwithstanding articles were published in the National Intelligencer in May, 1862.

MR. JOHNSON explained: After leaving Washington in 1862, Mr. Thomas went to his farm in Maryland and did not see the Intelligencer, and only subscribed to the Baltimore Sun. On motion of MR. JOHNSON the letter of Mr. Thomas, formally denying the charge of treasonable conspiracy to damage the public credit, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

The Senate then went into executive session.

BREAKING OF MISSISSIPPI LEVEES.

Seven Parishes Overflowed.

GREAT DAMAGE AND SUFFERING.

NEW ORLEANS, April 2.—The numerous breaks in the levees assure the devastation of the richest portion of southwestern Louisiana. By the giving way of the grand Levee Morgan, the sea overflows seven parishes. This was one of the largest works of the kind in the world, and was but recently completed.

Crops are progressing at Roman crevasse, fifty-six miles above this city, with some hope of closing it. The most recently reported break is nine miles below Baton Rouge, which will do immense damage. The overflow of this section of the country will cause great suffering among the poorer classes of whites, and throw thousands of freedmen upon the resources of the Bureau during the coming season.

FROM BALTIMORE.

BALTIMORE, April 2.—In the Superior Court to-day, on the application for an injunction to restrain the High Sheriff of city from holding an election for members to the Constitutional Convention, as authorized by the late Legislature, the Court declared its want of jurisdiction as a Court equity to decide a question of a political nature, especially involving the sovereignty of the political power of a State. The Court, therefore, refused the application for an injunction. The bill was dismissed with cost.

The African packet ship Golconda, belonging to the American Colonization Society, arrived to-day from Monravia. Everything was prosperous on the coast, and passengers who left Charleston on the Golconda, landed in good health, and are reported generally well pleased with the country. She brought several colored passengers, who have returned either on business or pleasure. The Golconda sails again for Moravia on the 20th, and takes out a large number of emigrants.

SOUTHERN RECONSTRUCTION.

Elections in Virginia Suspended—Civil Rights Bill in Alabama.

RICHMOND, April 2.—General Schofield has issued an order suspending all elections until reconstruction is completed. In no mean instances occurring will be filled by the commanding General.

Montgomery, April 2.—General Swayne, who is charged with administration of the Military Bill in Alabama, says a literal compliance with the Civil Rights Bill will be exacted, and payments for services rendered the State during the war are peremptorily forbidden. General Pope will establish his headquarters at Atlanta.

California Sympathy for Southern Destitution.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 2.—The bankers and merchants of this city assembled last night to devise means to assist the destitute people of the Southern States. The Allegheny Board of Control of the Public Schools of that city, held a regular monthly meeting last evening in the Fourth ward School house, Sandusky street.

After prayer, the following gentlemen answered to their names: Messrs. Brown, Benney, Boyle, Beckal, Dunlap, Francis, Ingham, Kolback, King, Loouis, Lee, Lockhart, McCance, Pitcairn, Swift, Thorn and Young.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The monthly reports of the various schools were presented and ordered to be filed.

Mr. Brown, from the Finance Committee, submitted the following report:

Balance due Treasurer last year....	$1,218 11
Warrants paid to date.....	24,103 10
Required to pay salaries to July 1..	10,230 00
Estimated amount to be paid in by Collectors on duplicates of 1866..	3,000 00

Mr. Lee presented a petition from teachers asking for the consideration of salaries with the teachers of Pittsburgh. The Committee on Teachers' Salaries recommended the adoption of the following increase: Salary of Principals, $1,300; Assistants, $500; Principals of Grammar Department, $900; Assistants, $450; Medium, $450; Music Teacher, $300,—making the total increase $4,124, or $38,674 for the whole term. The proposed increase to take effect on and after the first of June.

The recommendation was adopted.

Mr. Brown offered the following, which was adopted:

WHEREAS, By enactment of the Legislature and by resolutions of Councils, the borough of Manchester is now a ward of this city, therefore be it

Resolved, That the Secretary of this Board be and he is hereby authorized to invite the incoming Board to meet jointly with this Board at a special meeting to be called for the purpose of perfecting our consolidation as a School Board, known as the Board of Control.

On motion of Mr. Brown, the meeting of the Board provided for by the resolution was fixed on Thursday evening next.

Adjourned.

Charge of Adultery—A Domestic Imbroglio.

In our city domestic infelicity, caused by violations of the marriage vows, is fearfully prevalent. Scarcely a day passes that we are not called upon to record a want of chastity in the hymenial state, and if matters continue, we will soon share the unenviable notoriety Chicago has gained in affairs of this kind. The latest case is that of William Graham and his wife Lizzie, a notorious female in this city. The jealousy of Graham has been aroused of late by the frequent visits to his domicil of a certain Richard Walsh, who paid particular attentions to Mrs. Graham, spending whole days together talking to her and advising her to abscond her husband, as the latter was informed by a friend of Graham. Informed his wife that Walsh must quit visiting her or he would leave her to eke out her own subsistence, and when individuals These threats were treated with contempt, and on Monday evening, on Graham going home, he found Walsh and his wife in flagrante delicto. He immediately began a vigorous attack upon Walsh, but the latter proving the stronger man, Graham received the chastisement himself, and then left the house. Yesterday Graham appeared before Alderman Donaldson and made complaint against Walsh with fornication and assault and battery and his wife with adultery.

The accused were arrested and held for a hearing to-day.

The Best Piano Forte.

Among the many claimants for superiority in all the qualities which constitute a first class Piano Forte, in the judgment of the best pianists and composers in the country, the Bradbury, New York, and Schomacker & Co., Philadelphia, Pianos, surpass in volume, power, purity, brilliancy, fullness, depth and evenness of touch, all others now before the public. Nor is this to be wondered at when we consider that the scales and actions of these instruments have been made within the past six years, which combine not only all the modern improvements, such as full iron frame, French grand action, overstrung scale, agraffe treble, &c., but many valuable improvements of their own. So palpable are these facts that all who see and hear them are convinced. Their superior workmanship and style of finish cannot be surpassed. In prices they are from fifty to one hundred dollars cheaper than any others.

BARR, SLOAN & KNABE, No. 12 St. Clair street, are the sole Agents for the above and the celebrated Estey "Cottage Organ," which the patent "Vox Humana Stop" is only to be found. For pure pipe quality of tone they are unequalled, and cheaper also than any other Organ made in the United States.

Grand Fair.

J. M. Kinney, Esq., of Columbus, Ohio, has leased the Central Skating Park grounds, in the Ninth ward, for the purpose of holding thereon a grand fair sometime during the month of June. He proposes encircling all the open space from Penn street to the track of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company which will permit of a race track half a mile long. During the fair prizes will be given for the fastest trotting with and without harness, which will, no doubt, attract some of the celebrities of the turf to enter the fring.

There will also be premiums given to the exhibitors of cattle, fruit, flowers and vegetables, while a variety of entertainments, prominent among which will be a balloon race, will serve to make the fair very attractive during the continuance.

We understand Mr. Kinney intends to donate twenty per cent. of the gross receipts to the Soldiers' Monument Fund of Allegheny county.

Wanted the Goose.

The animal man is made up of contradictions, his likes and dislikes being often diametrically opposite to those of his neighbor. For instance, what does a son of Thespia or Thalian daughter abhor more than a certain farm yard fowl called the goose. It is the very essence of all undesirable articles, the sum and substance of all horrors; yet to others it brings visions of large eggs and sage stuffing, making the epicurean's mouth water in hopeful expectancy. Among the latter we may class a native of "Afric's sunny clime" named Davis, who on Monday night entered the stable of Joseph Benswanger in Manchester, and attempted to steal a large gray goose and eighteen eggs. He was caught in the act, however, and brought before Mayor Morrison, who committed him to jail in default of bail to await trial.

A Defaulting Boarder.

A youth named A. J. Kenny was arraigned before that astute representative of the blind goddess, Justice, Alderman Donaldson, yesterday, to answer a charge of false pretence preferred against him by J. C. Anderson. It appears that the latter is the proprietor of a boarding house where Kenny received board and lodging for a considerable time, without remunerating the worthy Boniface. Kenny, on being importuned to settle his bill, coolly informed Anderson that he had no money but was awaiting the arrival of funds from his father, in whose employ he had been previous to his coming to Anderson's to board. By this representation he gained another week's board, at the end of which time the patience of mine host was totally exhausted, and he accordingly appeared before Alderman Donaldson and made the information, by virtue of which the defendant was arrested. There will be a hearing in the case on Thursday.

A Domestic Encounter.

A rubicund specimen of the "gem of the sea," rejoicing in the classical cognomen of Patrick Fitzpatrick, appeared before Justice Ammon yesterday and made oath against his wife Elizabeth for assault and battery. Patrick is a strong believer in the biblical injunction that in his own house man should bear rule. This often he endeavored to enforce upon his better half, while he was laboring under the stimulating influence of certain intoxicating beverages, but alas for human foresight, the lady, instead of listening to the wisdom of her lord, grasped a poker and dealt him a severe blow on the right temple with it, felling him to the ground. For thus demeaning herself, Elizabeth was made to pay six dollars, being the amount of costs in the suit, which was settled by mutual consent.

Thanks.—Edward Evans, Master, and J. M. Brandergreuff, Clerk of the steamer Westmoreland, will please accept our thanks for a late number of the New Orleans Commercial Bulletin.

Gen. Cameron on Improving the Ohio.

A joint resolution recently passed Congress, making provision for a survey for a canal round the Falls of the Ohio on the Indiana side. That resolution was opposed by General Cameron. That our readers may see on what grounds, we copy a portion of the debate:

Mr. Cameron—I have not heard all the discussion on this subject, and therefore I may be wrong in my remarks; but I have a pretty good knowledge of the history of this canal. While I am in favor of doing anything that may be required for the improvement of the Ohio river, I am decidedly opposed to spending any money upon the canal, for the reason that I think it has been one of the most profitable investments in this country. No canal has made so much money to the stockholders as it has done. I will take it to-morrow, with all its cost, and make more money out of it than I could in any other investment that I know of. Whatever can be done for the improvement of the Ohio river should be done, but as regards these falls, another canal, in addition to the one now there, will be a most profitable investment; and when individuals make money out of the improvements of the country, I hold that it is wrong for this Government to invest its money in such enterprises. I have great respect for all the gentlemen of the West—

Mr. Sherman—I will simply inform my friend that this is not a proposition to aid the canal company at all. It simply authorizes the Government to ascertain certain facts, to examine the Indiana side and the Kentucky side, to make a survey.

Mr. Cameron—I understand it now perfectly well. It is to make the Government of the United States pay for a survey there. I hold that the individuals owning that canal can afford to pay for surveys themselves.

Mr. Sherman—They will not make a survey on the Indiana side.

Mr. Cameron—That is no reason why other individuals should not. I made myself, thirty-five years ago, at my own cost, a survey around the Falls of the Ohio. It would not cost much money. It did not cost me more than two or three hundred dollars. I believe now that anybody who will go there and make a survey, and get the authority of the State of Indiana to enable him to make a canal around there, will make more money than in any other way in which the same amount of money could be expended.

Mr. Conkling—Why do you not do it now?

Mr. Cameron—If the State of Indiana will give me the authority to make a canal around the Falls of the Ohio, I should be very willing to do it. But, sir, I object to the United States spending their money for the benefit of private individuals, no matter where it is to be located. The object here is to get the Government of the United States to spend its money on the Indiana side. I am perfectly willing to make an appropriation for the Ohio river. It is a great highway belonging to the whole nation, and I believe that in the future time a system of dams will be instituted there, as there ought to be in many other rivers in this country, which would make the navigation from the mouth of the Ohio to its source. There is plenty of water there. It will be the greatest improvement of the age in which it may be inaugurated. But I am in favor of having it done by individual subscriptions, by individual enterprise, without any appropriation from the Government. I might just as well ask for an appropriation around the falls of the Niagara, or the Susquehanna, or rious injuries, the exact nature of which, in the State of Pennsylvania. We have falls there as great nearly as the falls of the Ohio, and we have as immense trade which would justify us in doing it there if we could get those falls overcome.

My objection to this proposition now is that I do not want to see the improvement of the Ohio river thus a mere improvement around the falls. As I said a moment ago, I look upon that river as a great highway from the Lake to the West, on which all parts of six or seven States materially. If we go into that improvement we ought to do it on a large scale, and not have it a mere matter of local interest, as it would be if it were taken from its source to its termination. Therefore I want no money expended now around the falls of the Ohio, but am perfectly willing to vote for an appropriation, not only for a survey, but for the improvement of the Ohio from its mouth to its source in the most substantial manner, and when we vote this money, if expended now, will do any good, except to give employment to a few hundred men for a few months. The remembrance is that you cannot now take that stock from those people; but you may make another canal on the Indiana side, which I think the right side, and where it ought to have been made originally. A very small sum, comparatively, would keep the Ohio river free from that point down to its connection with the Mississippi; and I believe, by a system of dams above, it would have a navigation as the word does not possess, for a sum of money so small that when once expended and the improvement completed, the whole country and the world would be astonished that it had not been done long years ago. Therefore, I do not want anything done now in a small way which may hereafter stand in the way of the great improvement I have suggested.

Repented.

James Waters came to the office of Alderman McMasters yesterday, and stated that John Obinger had knocked him down and otherwise abused him without sufficient provocation. The parties were engaged in floating a flat boat from Freeport to Herr's Island. When the craft was being moored Waters failed to tie the line according to Obinger's notion, and the consequence was that the latter became greatly exasperated and committed the assault complained of. Obinger was arrested and brought before the magistrate he expressed a hearty contrition for his conduct, and promised Waters never to repeat the attack under any circumstances. The whole affair was amicably adjusted, and the twain kissed each other effectionally and departed like a modern Damon and Pythias.

Fire on Penn Street.

Yesterday afternoon a slight fire occurred in the basement of Mrs. Webb's residence, No. 297 Penn street, which, but for the opportune assistance of a gentleman passing the house at the time, might have been attended with disastrous consequences. A couple of gas fitters had been employed in fixing a pipe in the cellar, the end of which they had stopped with a plug, and then went off. By some means it worked out, and the ignighting gas flew to the rafters of the first floor. The flames were not fairly under way until they were discovered by the gentleman alluded to above, who, with the aid of a couple of buckets of water, extinguished them. There was no alarm given

THE LOCK-OUT.

A meeting of Iron Manufacturers was held in this city yesterday. It was attended not only by proprietors resident in this immediate neighborhood, but by owners from some distance. A resolution looking to the immediate resumption of business was indefinitely postponed. The proprietors see no encouragement for hastening a renewal of operations, even at the proposed reduction of wages, the rate at the East being lower still.

Nothing can be plainer than that the mill-owners will not buy labor unless they see a chance to make a gain by selling the avails thereof. Nor does it stand to reason that they would keep idle the large capital invested in the mills if they saw they could go on with a reasonable prospect of profit.

No doubt the workmen see a hardship in diminished wages; but as the prices of commodities fall off, wages will inevitably recede. The laws of trade are as immutable as the law of gravitation.

The present condition of business is uncomfortable all round. It will be seen in the end that the only deliverance lies through a return to a specie basis, and the graduating of all values by it.

BLACK SUFFRAGE.

No other contemporaneous movement affords so admirable a study of the effect of political changes upon personal character and conduct as that presented in the extension of the elective franchise to the black population of the United States. If any republican has failed to watch it closely, and to fully consider the various manifestations of opinion and feeling to which it has given occasion, he has missed a fine opportunity both for instruction and amusement.

At the North democrats may be roughly distinguished as those who have common sense and those who have not. The former class perceive that the admission of the blacks to all the political privileges enjoyed by the whites must follow as a necessary corollary from emancipation. Four millions of people possessed of personal freedom, and living under popular government, cannot be permanently shut away from participation in political concerns. The current of events may, indeed, be obstructed for a while, but the impediments are sure to be swept away, when the current will resume its flow with increased velocity. They see, moreover, that a professed democracy, based upon distinctions of caste, is an anomaly—a gigantic hypocrisy—that cannot endure. Not meaning to stay in a hopeless minority forever, if they can help it, they insist that combating the inevitable is madness; that wisdom consists in accepting the condition as it is and must remain, and in "courting the blacks," most of whom have acquired the ballot, as the remainder will soon.

The latter class of Democrats install their passions and prejudices in the place of reason, and fancy that by bluster they can control the order of the universe. Here in Pennsylvania they imagine society will be disrupted and broken up if a few blacks are allowed to vote, and swagger dismally about converting this fair Commonwealth into another La Vendee, in which every man's hands shall be red with the blood of his neighbor, and the rivers become horrible with myriads of human corpses. These demented or inane gentlemen forget that black men voted in Pennsylvania from the days of WILLIAM PENN down to the year 1837; that the order of nature was not subverted; that our good citizens did not fall to cutting each other's throats; and that Democrats, about election times, were as obsequious and complying to black voters as to white ones. What has been, will be; for "there is nothing new under the sun."

At the South there are fewer democrats than at the North of that class which used to be known as "God's fools." Most of them, since the flush of surprise and indignation passed off, have settled down into a frame of mind highly philosophical and patriotic. Take the Richmond Examiner as a sample. It says:

"There must be something radically wrong in the head of any man who could view, without much admiration, the general demeanor of the colored people of this commonwealth during and since the war. When we remember these facts, we gather confidence that, in the discharge of the duties thrust upon them by the late act of Congress, they will disappoint the hopes of those who are now desirous to see that conflict of races begun which the war failed to excite."

The late slaveholders think blood enough has been shed, as do all men everywhere who shared the perils of the battle-field during the rebellion; and have no idea the country is going to destruction because all its people are coming to the enjoyment of inalienable rights.

THE Post claims that $100,000 of plunder is involved in the bill now pending at Harrisburg to give $500,000 to citizens of York, Adams, Perry, Franklin, Bedford and Cumberland counties as indemnity for spoliations by rebel raids, and to have submitted the evidence thereof to eminent lawyers to ascertain if it will do to publish it. Meantime, it throws out the hint that Republican members for this and adjoining counties are implicated in corruptly sustaining the bill, thus throwing suspicion equally upon the innocent and guilty.

After what happened last year in connection with the Chambersburg appropriation, it is fair to infer, without much evidence, that the contemplated appropriation this year covers a large swindle. If our contemporary has information of such sort as to be evidence, let it "speak right out in meeting," naming the men.

But we venture the opinion, deduced from general principles, that whatever swindling is going on in the Legislature, members of both parties are concerned in it. The plunderers care little for any party, except as an instrument for securing an election. Having got that, they are not particular what party those belong to who join them in raids on the Treasury.

MR. EDWARD M'PHERSON, Clerk of the House of Representatives, is writing a biography of Mr. THADDEUS STEVENS. He brings to the performance of this task ability and culture and deep sympathy with the spirit and aims of the Great Commoner.

Mr. STEVENS resided many years in Adams county, and was on terms of close friendship with Mr. M'PHERSON's father. This friendship descended to the son, and has been strengthened by similarity of convictions and aims, and by association in public life. The biographer has been well-chosen.

PARLIAMENTARY REFORM.

The bill introduced to the British Parliament, last month, by Mr. Disraeli, proposes to make four classes of voters: 1. Occupiers for two years of dwelling houses in boroughs, who have paid during that period all the rates for the relief of the poor, levied on said houses respectively; 2. Owners or tenants of properties in counties of the rateable yearly value of £15, and who have paid all poor rates on the same; 3. All graduates or associates of any University in the United Kingdom, or who has passed at any Senior middle class examination of any of said Universities, or has been ordained priest or deacon of the Church of England, or minister of any other religious denomination, duly officiating; or has been a serjeant-at-law, or certified pleader or conveyancer, or certified attorney, solicitor or proctor; or a duly qualified medical practitioner under the Medical Act of 1858; or a school-master holding regular certificate; 4: All persons who for two years have had a balance of £50 in some Savings Bank, or held that amount in the national debt or stock of the Bank of England, or has been assessed for income or other taxes to the amount of twenty shillings. The act applies only to England and Wales, and not to Scotland, nor to the Universities of Oxford or Cambridge. The tone of the opening debate upon it, indicates that it will fail.

IT is rumored that the interest of G. W. DEMERS in the Albany Evening Journal is to pass into the hands of CHARLES A. DANA, and the paper is to be made thoroughly Radical. If Mr. DEMERS can be induced to retire, Mr. DANA will not start a new daily paper in New York, as already announced.

A JUST retribution has fallen upon the Republicans of Connecticut. A few months ago, through cowardice, they refused to enfranchise the blacks. Now, they are beaten for lack of the votes the blacks would gladly have given them.

THE Paris Universal Exposition was opened on last Monday with imposing ceremonies. The American department is confessedly one of the poorest.

IT is not a positive fact that Dr. LIVINGSTON has met with a cruel death. The story is received with much doubt in certain circles of London.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITOL.

WASHINGTON, March 30, 1867.

MESSRS. EDITORS: There are very wide varieties of style and speaking in a body constituted like our House of Representatives. There the rough, high-voiced, buncomb speech-makers who saw the air and pluck up their sleeves and grow hoarse; there are the heavy, dull, solid men who read their fulminations with soporific effect; there are those who like Burke "speak essays" and like Pitt make his "essays only written speeches." Of the buncomb class is Chanler, of New York, a round-headed son of the Emerald Isle, who gives the Five Points, view of all questions as often on an average as twice per diem. He has a sonorous voice, ringing loud above a tumult that never ceases on account of his rich brogue, once so sweet to the ear of Gen. Scott. Yet Chanler even occasionally from a vast mass of chaff plucks a grain of wheat or corn and exhibits it wonderingly to the world, with exclamations of surprise wide-eyed as those of little Davy Horner, who, as history records, excavated with primal digit, while seated by the paternal fireside and among the household Penates, the moist and spicy plum from the welcome dish made and named in honor of the day of redemption.

Then there is the style and manner, each quite peculiar, of Hon. James Brooks. He evidently feels it incumbent upon himself to redeem his character from the aspersions of those who quote whole acres of newspaper writings of his, dating back to 1837. Then he was, to his honor be it said, an abolitionist. Having then seen, he is now wilful in his blindness. He is as the man in the fable, who having wandered long in the enchanted mountains and through darkness and floods, and reached at last the land of delights, turns his back upon his own achievements and dies in want and misery. Mr. Brooks is a stout, well fed, moon-faced gentleman, with eye-glasses pinched across his nose, a heavy shock of brown hair and an energetic and industrious air. He is the recognized leader of the "Democracy," and is as watchful as a lynx. There is to the looker-on an element of the ludicrous in all his speeches, partly because they are loaded with allusions to the Jacobins and the History of the French Revolution. No names more ready to his tongue than Gironde, Tiers-etat, Robespierre, Danton. The Republican party of to-day is to him the Jacobin party. Standing by the side of Hon. Mr. Morrisey, fresh from the prize ring and the Faro bank, consulting with Hon. J. Wood on questions of loyalty and finance—Mr. Brooks denounces Hon. Thaddeus Stevens, Geo. S. Boutwell and their compeers as peace-breakers, unsettlers of the public finances, and blood seekers! Picture to yourself Mr. Morrisey, as he leans upon the "green cloth," surrounded by his familiars, or strips his brawny chest preparatory to his trial of prowess in the ring, turning aside to denounce Horace Greeley, or Senator Harlan, or Mr. Fessenden, or General Howard as disturbers of the peace, wild-eyed, blood thirsty Jacobins or adventurers! Mr. M. has not yet taken that position on the floor of the House, but I can see that he fully sympathizes with Mr. Brooks when that gentleman expresses his views as to the dangers of the situation and the terrible intentions of the party of the Jacobins above named.

But Mr. Brooks is an opponent not to be despised. He has learning, industry, intelligence, a constituency who ask no questions for conscience sake. He abounds in Horatian maxims; in quotations from Plato or Socrates, the "better Frenchmen," like Chateaubriand or Rosseau. These all have said wise and charming things which segregated serve admirably although their ghosts doubtless shudder as they see to what vile uses their earthly labors have come. Nor does Mr. Brooks lack adroitness. Who blames him for using the shameful position of the Albany Republicans against the majority in the National House of Representatives? Think of Radicals here from Northern and Western New York voting to enfranchise the black men of the South while their neighbors at home are voting to withhold the ballot from black men there! Mr. Brooks did not fail to yield this weapon with power while in shame sat those on the opposite benches silent as so many statues! And why not? What had they to offer?

"To point a moral or adorn a tale,"

Probably the readiest speaker in the House is Mr. Bingham, of Ohio. His power and choice of language is something almost wonderful. He has been acting strangely this winter, voting with the enemy, carping at everything presented by the Republican side of the House, and chilling the hearts of his friends, but he is nevertheless a man of power though he does often lend it to the wrong cause, humanly speaking at least. In his round with General Butler this week, he made a speech which must have been unpremeditated, but had it been carefully studied it seems to me he could not have been more happy in the choice of terms. They were severe, but the speech itself was a Philippic. His voice pleasant and well modulated, rang through the great hall and was heard in every syllable to its remotest corner. He always commands universal attention. So earnest is he that he seems almost completely exhausted by any forensic effort of the kind alluded to. He is very apt and happy in historic allusion, the quaint phrase and incident of Holy Writ is apparently ever ready to his tongue. The periods of the classic authors, the neat terms and charming allusions of ancient lore, the syren story of mythology, the ringing periods of the famous orators who held the Grecian forum—all these are woven into his speech with the rapidity of the weaver's shuttle. All this, and much more, as to the genius and power of this man can I say, without endorsing the position he has assumed upon most of the great questions he has discussed this winter. My taste is gratified; my reason is unconvinced.

Gen. Butler, against whom Mr. Bingham levelled all his artillery, is a very different style of speaker, as almost every one knows. He seems to labor with his sentences as they are delivered; once they are out they hit the mark like bullets from a gun. He is full of his subject. He seems to smack at his words as if he had tasted them all and found them sweet. He aspires apparently to none of the graces of oratory. He is dead in earnest. He has no need to deck his images with flowers. They are all instinct with life. They are the children of a brain that works with awful force on material at a white heat. He piles fact upon fact; argument upon argument; fortifies himself by documents; never opens his armor to attack. He is brave. He is not afraid of deductions. He seems to see at once the ultimatum. No one I have ever seen in argument with him who could take him by surprise. He seems to have tried all his ground beforehand; sounded all the depths; measured all the heights; anticipated all the course of his opponent. I think him the most difficult man in the House to handle. He has hardihood. He is not afraid of the rough and tumble of life. He who gives him blows risks receiving as hard as the hardest given.

GENERAL NEWS.

—London "nobs" wear shirts that cost six hundred dollars a dozen.

—Rumor has it that George Peabody is engaged to Miss Bourdett Coutts, of the eminent banking firm in London.

—General Tom Thumb is living quietly in the enjoyment of his wealth at Bridgeport. He ought to take the stump for Barnum.

—It is said that, in his beautiful residence at Bridgeport, Barnum has no relic or sign of his long life as a showman, except a marble bust of Jenny Lind.

—The report that Hon. D. S. Dickinson had an insurance on his life of one hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars is denied. The sum should have been twenty thousand dollars, and no more.

—Mr. Sothern is to play eight weeks in Paris during the exhibition, seven nights a week, for Sunday is the great play-night in Paris. For this engagement he is to receive fifty pounds per night, or, in the aggregate, £2,800—equal to more than thirteen thousand dollars in gold.

—Kaufman has just finished a picture which represents Abraham Lincoln earning his first dollar. The incident was that which was often told by the late President when he ferried passengers across a river and received a silver dollar for his services. In this picture he is seen in his small flatboat, resting upon his oars, looking earnestly at the silver coin which he holds in the palm of his hand.

HEAR REASON!

STRENGTHEN THE DEFENSES.

When a garrison apprehends an attack from an outside enemy, what does it do? It STRENGTHENS THE DEFENCES. The human system, at this season of the year, is besieged by morbid influences. The atmosphere is full of them. Every change of weather lays the feeble open to their attacks. What is to be done in order to baffle these unseen, but ever active, foes? STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES. Do you ask how? The answer is simply—the means within the reach of all: Reinforce the vital organs and the nervous system with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. Tone the stomach, regulate the bowels, rouse the sluggish liver, cheer the spirits, enrich and purify the vital current, with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. That's the way to STRENGTHEN THE DEFENCES, and render the capital of health impregnable. If you wish to escape bilious head-ache, intermittent fever, indigestion, and nervous visitations—to enjoy, in all its plenitude, the blessing of "a sound mind in a sound body," use this incomparable preventive and restorative. It preserves health in the healthy, and renews it in the weak and ailing.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3, 1867.

COURT REPORTS,

Oyer and Terminer, &c.

Before Judges Sterrett and Mellon.

LAWRENCE COUNTY HOMICIDE CASE.

Wm. Seibert, an old man, was indicted for the murder of Patrick Cullagan, aged about thirty-five years, by shooting him with a rifle, the ball taking effect in the knee of the right leg. While the shooting took place in Lawrence county at the residence of the accused, on the Beaver river, Cullagan died at the Mercy Hospital, in this city, (where he was taken for medical attendance,) hence the jurisdiction of the case attached to Allegheny county. On the morning of July, 30th, 1866, Cullagan crossed the Beaver river, from the Beaver county side, to Seibert's, who kept a tavern, (but who had no licence at the time,) for the purpose of getting some whiskey to drink. After he had been over some time, a man on the Beaver county side observed Seibert come out of his house with a rifle in his hand, who was standing at a window apparently talking to some one inside, goin' within five or six feet of him, pointing the gun, and pulling a cap. Cullagan then walked away, and Seibert returned into the house, but soon came out again with the gun, and went towards Cullagan. Presently a gun was heard, and Cullagan was seen to fall. This was observed by two men across the river, but as to what followed they could not, of course they know nothing. After being shot, Cullagan was noticed by those who came to his assistance to be in an intoxicated condition, and stated that he (Seibert) did not blame Seibert for shooting him. Seibert justified himself, and producing a revolver, said that he had ordered Cullagan off his premises, and having refused, he (Seibert) would have fired him, (Cullagan.) Seibert also stated that he had ordered Cullagan off his premises before, and having refused to go, shot him. He sent for a physician, furnished stones, &c., and told the doctor to attend to the wound a "dollar's worth." He also went prior to the shooting, Cullagan procured at Seibert's four gallons of whiskey.

The Commonwealth was represented by Col. Duff, District Attorney, and A. G. Cochran, Esq., and the defence by Wm. Collier and Jacob S. Wilson, Esqs. The facts elicited by the Commonwealth we have given. The second counsel and the deceased were the only persons about the premises at the time

For the defence, Mr. Miller stated that the deceased went to the house of the prisoner and made himself very annoying and troublesome, and that the accused had no intention to kill, as had he been so disposed he might as well have shot Cullagan through the body as in the leg, having fired at him, as he appeared, at the short distance of sixty feet. Death had resulted from Cullagan's refusal to submit to an amputation, which the nature of the wound rendered necessary in order to save life. At most, Mr. Miller thought, the degree of the offense was nothing more than manslaughter.

Gen. Collier also spoke on behalf of the defense. The prisoner, an old man, had lived in Lawrence county for five or six years, and never been in any trouble. His mouth was close d. No one save he and the deceased were present at the time of the shooting, and therefore was no evidence as to what had occurred, excepting that the deceased was observed by persons across the river acting as if he was trying to get into the house. It could not be believed that the prisoner had committed a wilful, deliberate murder. A row had occurred, or something had been done to arouse the passion of the prisoner. An outrage must have been committed, else the prisoner would not have indicted his passion to such an extent as to cause him to say that if he had failed with the gun he would have "fixed" the object of his wrath with a revolver, at the same time exhibiting such weapon. There being no "specific intent" to take life, the essence of murder in the first degree, it was for the defense to show probable cause, but this they were estopped from doing directly, no eye outside the parties, save that of the Almighty, having witnessed what had occurred.

Col. Duff closed on behalf of the Commonwealth, and argued that from the evidence there was nothing to justify the passion into which the prisoner appeared to have lashed himself, nor was there anything to be inferred in justification or excuse for the shooting. Deceased was observed looking into a window; the prisoner approached him, pounded him, and burst the cap. Deceased thus having an intimation that the prisoner would execute a threat which he may have made, walked off, and as he was retreating, the prisoner returned with the gun, followed deceased, and shot him. The only explanation the prisoner gave for this was that the deceased had refused to leave the premises, and he shot him. From the declaration made, and the use of a deadly weapon, the law presumed an intention to kill, and the prisoner was responsible for the consequences of his act.

Judge Sterrett, in his charge to the jury clearly explained the law of homicide, explaining in what the different degrees consisted. Under the indictment the jury could find either of four verdicts; murder in the first degree, murder in the second degree, manslaughter, or not guilty. To convict of murder in the first degree, they must believe the killing was "wilful, deliberate and premeditated," or with a specific intent to take life. To convict in the second degree, the killing must have been with intent to do great bodily harm or other mischief; by the use of a deadly weapon, in a manner calculated to destroy life, the law presumed an intent to take life. Manslaughter is the unlawful killing of another in heat of passion, and without malice; no trespass on a man's lands or goods, and no words will justify killings. There must be both provocation and passion, based on adequate legal provocation, such as an assault upon a man's person. The fact that the deceased lost his life by refusing to have his leg amputated, did not excuse the prisoner, the wound being the sole cause of death. His Honor then referred to the facts of the case, which were in a very small compass. The jury might gather some light concerning the intention from the statements of the prisoner after the shooting. He had excused himself by saying he had expressed his intention, would shoot him if he did not go off the premises, that the accused told him to "shoot and be d—d," that he did shoot, and that he would "shoot him or any other damned man" who would not go off his premises. The prisoner was likely to give the best excuse he could offer, and under all the evidence the jury were to consider whether he was guilty of murder in the first or second degree—their deliberation, thought His Honor, should be so confined. If a "reasonable doubt" was entertained, their verdict should be not guilty.

The jury retired at four o'clock, and after an absence of about fifteen minutes, returned with a verdict of "guilty of murder in the second degree", and recommended the prisoner to the mercy of the Court.

Court adjourned till Wednesday at ten o'clock.

District Court.

Before Hon. H. W. Williams.

Joseph Fleming vs. C. W. Porterfield. Before reported. Verdict in favor of plaintiff for $215,71.

Alexander H. Burns, executor of Alexander Burns, deceased, vs. Joseph Young and Mary, his wife. Action on an agreement concerning the division of the estate. Verdict to favor of plaintiff for $205,15, subject to the opinion of the Court on a question of law reserved.

Western Pennsylvania Hospital vs. Allegheny County Home. Action to recover for maintenance of insane paupers. The cause had proceeded for some time, when it appeared that Judge Williams was one of the directors of the Hospital; for this reason the case was passed to be tried before Judge Hampton.

A. Aaronson vs. John B. Sarber and Frederick Braun. Plaintiff, with the consent of defendants, conferred judgment in favor of the defendant Frederick Braun for $64, being the amount of rent due, with interest, and costs of suit, with stay of execution to June 24, 1867.

At one o'clock Court adjourned, attorneys and suitors in cases on the list having gone to dinner.

Whipped Her.

Annie Ray, if the veracity of officer Seth Wilmot can be relied on, resides in Skunk Hollow, near the borough of Lawrenceville. Of course she is a quiet woman—who ever saw one by her own showing who is not—and yesterday her peace was disturbed by a certain Mrs. M'Causland, in this manner: The latter called Annie very harsh names and threatened to smack her in the mouth. Miss Ray retorted, in a lady-like way, when Mrs. M'Causland struck her in the back with a stick. Suffering from pain, she made her way to Alderman Straub's, and while she cried, testified that the whole affair occurred as given above word for word. Mrs. M'Causland had not been arrested at five o'clock last evening.

Refused to Quit.—Andrew Jackson Taylor has for some time past occupied a house on the estate of Michael O'Hara, in Collins township. The latter being desirous of re-possessing the premises, gave Andrew notice to quit, which the man with the Scotch name refused to obey. Finding persuasion fruitless, O'Hara appeared before Alderman Straub yesterday and made oath charging Taylor with forcible entry and detainer. Officer Seth Wilmot went last evening in quest of the accused.

The New Court Hours did not work satisfactorily in the District Court yesterday. The case on trial having "broken down" about noon, when the next on the list was called it was discovered that the interested parties "had gone to dinner," also those in the next, and the next, and the Court concluding that "all hands" might as well go and eat, adjourned till Wednesday at ten A. M.

Thomas Ravenagh, an insane man, was arrested on St. Clair street yesterday, and committed to jail for the present.

Sabbath School Presentations.

The Providence Mission Sabbath School has been the recipient of some valuable donations of late. In January it was presented with a library of between three and four hundred volumes, from the North Church Sabbath School of Allegheny, by their Superintendent Thomas Beckwith. About the same time it received fifty volumes of music books from Mr. A. J. Ferris, for which they return the donors their thanks, hoping God will bless them for their liberal donations. On last Sabbath they were presented with a very fine organ by Mr. Lewis Peterson, Sr. Dr. T. F. Dale made the presentation speech in his usually happy manner, which was responded to by the school in the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, Mr. Lewis Peterson has most generously presented to our Sabbath School a beautiful and sweet toned Taylor and Farley organ to aid us in our singing; therefore be it.

Resolved, That we tender to Mr. Peterson our most sincere thanks. And further,

Resolved, That we recognize in Mr. Peterson one of the original and faithful patrons of Sabbath schools in our neighborhood, he having furnished on his farm the first room for their accommodation.

Resolved, That with our thanks to Mr. Peterson, we, the teachers and pupils in the Providence Mission Sabbath School, pray God, through Jesus Christ the Great Teacher, to bless him in this life and by His grace prepare him to unite with the Redeemed in the joys and all Sabbath Schools singing praises forever in the great sanctuary above.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, April 2, 1867.

The following are the New York stock quotations for to-day: Gold, 134¼; 1881, bonds, 108¼; Five Twenties, old, 109½; Five Twenties, '65, 108¼; do new, 107½; Seven Thirties, 106¼. Michigan Southern Railroad, 73½; Cleveland and Pittsburgh, 78½; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 93; Erie, 36½; Chicago and Northwestern, 35½; do preferred, 64¾; New York Central, 105½; Chicago and Rock Island, 91½; Reading, 102.

The local stock market is very much depressed, not so much for the absolute want of money to take up what is offered, as for a central place, where buyer and seller alike can find an opportunity of being accommodated. There is said to be an abundance of capital here seeking investment at a little above six per cent if the system of leaving collaterals for loans was introduced; borrowers and lenders could thus be brought together on smaller margins, and with less trouble and expense.

The "pinch" in the money market is not yet over, as next Thursday will be a severe test for the three and four month's paper falling due on that day. In the western cities, the demand for currency is still less active, and increasing, in consequence of navigation on the northern canals and rivers being resumed.

—The recent legislation on the subject of taxation by the National Congress will very materially decrease the aggregate of internal revenue, unless, by some means now unforseen and unexpected, the business of the country largely increases. It is estimated that the loss on articles and item transferred to the free list, with the reduction made in the income tax, will amount to $30,000,000 per annum in round numbers, while the abolition of certain stamp taxes, and the reduction of the impost on various branches of home manufacture, must add very materially to this amount. The largest item of reduction is that which makes the income tax uniform in per centage on all amounts over $1,000, which will make an estimate difference to the revenue of some $15,000,000. The additional exemption of income, from $600 up to $1,000, is put at a difference of $6,000,000. The most important additions to the free list are sugar refiners, tinware, iron castings, doors and sashes, coopers' and carriage builders' products, hollow-ware, nails, salt, varnish, hoop-skirts, advertisements, and ready-made clothing—the last item amounting to some $1,000,000. On the list of reductions the most important are—cigars, on which the tax (dropping the ad valorem) is fixed at a uniform rate of $5 per thousand; wool manufactures and leather 2½ per cent; hoop skirts, hats and caps, bonnets, India-rubber boots and shoes, 2 per cent; refined sugar, 1½ per cent.

—The scarcity of money throughout the country is attributed by the inflationists to the withdrawal of legal-tenders by the Secretary of the Treasury during March. This opinion as we have frequently shown, has a slight foundation. Some contraction of legal-tenders will be shown in the April statement, but not $40,000,000 anticipated. In this state of affairs borrowers cannot be too careful in making long engagements, for they will find it cheaper money in April and during the summer. In ordinary years abundance of money in the Summer and low rates are the rule, but there are now many causes in addition to be made by the Treasury in funding seven-thirty and compound notes prior to August 15, which will affect all ordinary calculations. For the present, Government securities offer to capital the largest rate of interest, and when rates at a much lower point the Government federal stocks will not lose their advantage, and call loans will be cheap when had at about 7 per cent.—N. Y. Tribune.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

The produce markets were more active to-day than on Monday, the transactions in the aggregate, being considerably larger, but there is yet room for improvement. The stringency in money matters has a tendency to check anything like a speculative feeling, and the demand for the leading commodities, therefore, is confined mainly to supplying immediate wants.

GRAIN—Wheat is in light supply and firm; No. 2 may be quoted at $2.55 to $2.70 and No. 1 at $2.85@2.90. Corn is more active; sale of 1 car mixed Shelled at 75; 4 cars prime Yellow, in elevator, at 82, and 1800 bush do, on private terms. Rye is selling at at $1.40 to $1.45. Oats less active, and in better supply but unchanged; we continue to quote at 53 to 54, on track, and 55 to 57, in store. Barley is in limited supply and firm —sale of 80 bush prime Spring at $1.17.

MILL FEED—is firm, with a very good demand. Sales on wharf of 2 tons at $1.30 for Bran; $1.40 for Seconds, and $1.50 for Middlings.

FLOUR—Is firm, with a steady local demand at $12.50 for $13.25 for Spring Wheat; $14.00 to $15.00 for Winter Wheat; and $16 to $17 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $7.75 to $8 per barrel.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

CATTLE.

The supply of cattle was remarkably light this week, not exceeding, if reaching five hundred head, but as the demand was restricted almost wholly to supplying the wants of butchers, the market was a dull one, though prices were well sustained, prime retailing cattle commanding 8¼ to 8½, and a few extra sold at a fraction over 9c. The supply next week will doubtless be large, as freights on live stock between here and Chicago have been reduced to twenty-five cents per cwt., and the reduction was not made too soon, as drovers were sending their stock east by other routes; and, as a consequence, the railroads centering at this point have suffered very heavily during and during the past few months. Drovers are like other people, they do their business wherever they can have it done cheapest and best, and the new railroad companies find this out the better for themselves.

SHEEP.

The offerings of sheep were also very meagre, but as the demand was confined altogether to supplying the wants of butchers, prices compared with last week have undergone no change, and we continue to quote at 6¼ to 8½, gross, for fair to prime fat mutton. Emerick & Co. sold 32 head at 6½ to 8, and Wright sold 48 head to Hines, common, weighing 320, at 6¼.

HOGS.

The market for this class of stock remains quiet and unchanged. Emerick & Co. report having retailed about 150 head at prices ranging from 7¼ to 8½, and these may be regarded as the extremes of the market.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Carr & McAllister retailed 12 head for Herring at 8¼ to 8½. Glass & Lafferty 27 head at 8¼ to 7¾. Werner & Hartman 37 head at 8¼ to 8¾. Buckwalter & Haslewood 17 head at 7¾ to 8.40. Merrick & Dond sold 18 head to Myers & Needy at 7¾, and 16 head at 7 to 8¼. Robinson sold 4 head at 7¾ to 8¼. Greenwald & Kahn 57 head at 7¾ to 8½. Emerick & Co. to Myers & Needy 6 head at 8¼. Kraus & Haas, 34. L. Rothchilds, 22. Marks & Traurman, 78. Myers & Needy sold 32 head to L. Myers; 20 head to Phillips, and retailed 34 head.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

CRUDE—The market was again quiet and dull to-day, the transactions in the aggregate being comparatively light, and prices, if anything, are a shade lower. We have the following sales reported: 2000 bbls. to arrive, at 6½; 100 bbls. on the spot, at 7; 500, (47 gravity) at 6; 500, "Smith's Ferry," at 6½, and 107 do do, at $2.75 per bbl, delivered in Manchester—5 gallon barrels, which, of course, are to be returned. There is some little inquiry for May, and there were offers to buy for that month at 6¼ to 7, but spot oil cannot fairly be quoted above 6 to 6½, according to gravity. We have no definite advices from Oil City, further than the market there is dull and declining.

REFINED—There was not a single transaction in bonded oil to-day, at least, we had none reported, and while the market is full and weak, prices are nominally about unchanged. Prime light straw to white may be quoted at 25½ for immediate delivery in Philadelphia, and 26 to 27 for choice and white. We are cognizant of one offer to buy 1500 bbls standard white—500 for June, at 29½; 500 for July, at 29, and 500 for August, at 29½. Free oil is quiet and unchanged; sale of 50 bbls, prime light straw to white at at 40c—smaller sales at 41 to 42.

ARRIVALS—As the river is now in fine navigable condition, the arrivals within the next few days will doubtless be large.

RIVER NEWS.

The river was apparently about at a stand last evening, with ten feet in the channel, by the Allegheny marks. Our latest advices from Oil City yesterday reported fifty-five inches and at a stand. The weather was cool but pleasant, and at times the sun was visible.

The new tug boat Boaz, owned, we believe, by Messrs. Fawcett & Smith, (coal men) is without doubt, one of the handsomest boats of the kind ever built here or any other place. She sets in the water very gracefully, is of fine model, and having powerful engines, will be able to move a heavy tow.

The Argosy got in from Cincinnati about three o'clock yesterday morning, having made the round trip in five days and seven and half a hours, which is remarkably quick time. The Argosy has become a permanent institution in the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati trade, and her gentlemanly and prompt owners entitles her to the respect and confidence of shippers and travellers. She leaves to-day at three o'clock sharp, Bill Mandeville in command, and Mr. W. H. Scott in the office.

The Nora, in charge of Capt. Sam Shuman was the last here from Cincinnati last night, and will doubtless leave again this morning. This boat has been absent for months, during which she has been running below—made one trip from Cincinnati to Arkansas River. Her commander, Capt. H. D. Swinney, has been at his home in Steubenville, for some time past, in feeble health.

The Dubuque, Capt. Parker, will leave for St. Louis and the Upper Missouri on Saturday without fail, and she will be followed by the Columbia, Capt. G. W. Reed.

The Leclaire left for the Upper Missouri gold regions last evening, with a fair freight list, a considerable number of passengers and engagements below. There were no other departures aside from the regular packets.

The Bellevernon, Capt. Darragh, is filling up rapidly for the trip to the Missouri river, as is also the Kenton, Captain J. H. Dunlap, for New Orleans. The Ezra Porter will be the Saturday packet for Cincinnati.

The Maggie Hays was advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh on Sunday, but the Glendale was at Evansville on Sunday, en route from St. Louis to Pittsburgh, as was also the Julia No. 2 on her way to the Ohio. The Glasgow and Simpson Planter passed Louisville on Sunday.

An Evansville telegram to the Cincinnati Commercial says: The Evansville and Cairo Packet Company have dissolved. Captain H. T. Dexter took took the Charmer for his interest, and, it is said, has traded for one-third of the Sticklstep, giving three thousand dollars to boot. Capts. Throop, Lompcke and John Gilbert take the Mayflower. Captains Gus. Dusouchett, R. K. Dunkerson and Theodore Fowler take the Armada. Capt. Dexter takes command of the Quickstep on Monday and Thursday. Capt. Dusouchet commands the Armada, leaving on Tuesday's and Friday's, and Capt. Throop the Mayflower, leaving on Wednesday's and Saturday's.

On Wednesday Capt. Geo. M. Haslett sold one-fourth of the steamer Rubicon at Saint Louis, to Capt. Wm. B. Blake, at the rate of $15,000 for the whole boat. J. E. D. Couzins and John How have sold the Tacony to the Railroad Coal Mining and Transportation Company of Lexington, Missouri. Capt. J. Kelly, of Racine, Wisconsin, has sold one-fourth of the G. A. Thompson to Capt. Jos. M. Woods for $2000.

The Great Republic is deeply laden, and has 170 cabin passengers. She had a constant stream of visitors all day. She departed at 6 p. m. Her cabin is only magnificent. The outside appearance is singular, but not so disproportionate, as the Louisville papers led us to expect.—Cairo Democrat, 28th.

Three children were rescued from the roof of a floating house in the Tennessee River, near Savannah, on Saturday last. They reported that their parents in attempting to escape were drowned.

Two salt barges containing 2300 barrels of salt, belonging to the Kanawha Salt Company, were sunk at Columbus, Kentucky, last Wednesday. We learn that there was no insurance, and, therefore the loss will fall very heavy upon the company. The salt was en route to Memphis. The barges were floating down the river and were carried by the eddy into the river opposite Columbus against the wharf-boat, and sunk in deep water.

The America was loading at Nashville for Pittsburgh on Friday last, with cotton. She had engaged between three and four hundred bales of cotton, and one hundred and fifty tons of scrap iron.
